

ONE International I-9 tractor in Northwest Airline's fleet at Seattle takes command of a DC-4 and tows it from the passenger terminal to the hangar area—inexpensively—easily.

KEEPING TRIM is easy for airports—and inexpensive, too—when an International Super-A tractor with mower barbers the turf and port perimeter grasslands.

for Airlines... for Airports INTERNATIONAL TRACTORS provide dependable mobile power

More International tractors are at work at airports than any other make, according to a recent survey. No finer endorsement of a tractor could be desired! In the many towing, pushing and housekeeping jobs around a port, these tractors soon pay for themselves. Because they were designed to perform beyond owners' expectations, and built to outlast the usual depreciation write-off, you'll find International tractors are good investments. As mobile power around your port, air transport base or terminal, they can't be beat.

Ask your International Industrial Power Distributor to help select the tractors and equipment that will fulfill your requirements—or write direct for descriptive literature from which to make your choice.
